

Disability Advocacy Service has been identified as an organisation that can assist people with disabilities to request a review of their NDIS Plan.

If what is written in your NDIS Plan no longer provides you with support and lacks detail of what that support should look like...

You Can:

- Contact Disability Advocacy Service and
- Request an Internal Review of your NDIS
Plan

How do I apply for a review of a National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) decision?

If you are not happy with a decision made by the NDIA, you can:

1. Talk to an Advocate at Disability Advocacy Service (DAS), located at:
4 / 54 Reg Harris Lane Alice Springs NT and
1 / 129 Paterson Street Tennant Creek NT
2. With the help of DAS, complete the online NDIS form requesting an internal review.
3. If you are still dissatisfied with the decision after an Internal Review, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for an external merits review.

Disability Advocacy Service can provide support to assist you to:

- Understand the NDIS Appeals review process
- Prepare documents for an Internal Review and External Merits Review
- Apply for legal assistance to pursue an application with the Administrative Appeals Tribunal
- Access advice and skills provided to better represent yourself at the Administrative Appeals Tribunal if you choose to do so

Finally, DAS Advocate will attend AAT Conferences and Hearings with you, plus assist you in lodging the necessary information to support your appeal.
